"THE GRAYS ON DECK AGAIN."

After the capture of the House of Representatives two years ago by the ex-Confederates, some Southern journal started an exulting campaign song, in which the boast quoted at the head of this article formed the refrain. The verses were copied in Northern Republican papers as indications of the triumphant and blustering spirit of the followers of the Lost Cause, and during the late Presidential campaign some of the boastings of the prospective supremacy of the ex-rebels, were cited as evidence of the vitality and arrogance of the old slave sentiment. Many people affected to believe that these expressions were of a preventative character and the suggestion that we were dealing too much as a conquered people with rebels on world class equal ground with patriotism, was in many quarters made the basis an exultant cry of partisanship. The N. Y. Tribune was especially fearful that there was any danger of the wipe out of the distinction between loyalty and treason, and very anxious to have it believed that all parties united in each other's embrace, ignoring the purposes service of the soldiers who preserved the Union and upheld the Government of the Republic. It seemed to have no patience with any one who believed that the ex-rebels would seek to glorify their "cause" if they should achieve political success, and it made a hobby of pruning editorials full of sarcasm for those who mistrusted the existence of any disposition demanding for the rebel soldiers the same honors paid to the defenders of the Nation.

During the late Presidential campaign, the Tribune even became excessively ardent as a partisan, and for a few months was one of the most zealous champions of the Boys in Blue and the cause for which they fought. Since then it has found an Administration with a "new policy" so abominable that it supported by the Tribune in 1876, that it has dropped again, and thus forced it to come down on its knees to the Independents more directly than ever before. So far as the Tribune itself is concerned, this matters little, but when a paper assuming to be a special exponent and advocate of the "Administration policy" takes especial pains to cast reflection on the men who left all down rebellion on the battlefield and who bore in their own persons the wounds intended for the Nation without the same time demanding that they hang chaplets of honor upon Confederate monuments we think it affords a design of the times which the loyal citizen can hardly regard with satisfaction. In the Tribune for May 18th, the following was an editorial:

"The members of the Grand Army of the Republic in Baltimore, have refused to do what would seem to be a graceful and appropriate act. They have declined by a large majority to decorate the graves of the Confederate soldiers, on the anniversary of their bravery. It was merely a kindly tribute to remember the manliness and courage of the Confederate soldiery, it will be farther from receiving approval with the cause of the men who fought on the Union side. The first to do the men who wore the Gray were the men who wore the Blue, and we venture to predict that, on the coming Decoration days Union dead and Confederate dead will be alike remembered and honored. Nevermore generally than they have been before. Those Baltimore gentlemen have simply succeeded in raising a doubt where there was not one before."

It should be unnecessary for us to state that the Baltimore Post took no such view of the matter, and in no way declined or encouraged the "bravery" of the Confederate soldiers. The Grand Army of the Republic has from time to time given considerations to the more recognition of personal courage which has often found a counterpart deeply among savages as a song the civilized and people of the world. Its purpose to perpetuate the memory of devotion to a great and right principle, of that patriotism which preserved our country from the dire nation with which it was threatened by a wicked and treasonable rebellion. The annual memorial services of the order are specially devoted to this one purpose, and the wreaths of gratitude and remembrance are strewn impartially upon the grave of the humblest private soldier and that of the most lofty leader. The survivors of the Grand Army place wreaths upon the graves of their fallen comrades because they fell in the performance of a sacred duty and in behalf of those immortal principles of liberty and humanity. To ask them to pay similar public honors to a monument erected to commemorate the Confederate dead was a violation of all sense of propriety, and for them to have consented would have been to make a mockery of the solemn observances intended to counteract the jubilation which purchased the Nation's triumph. And yet the N. Y. Tribune has already for a hundred in the "conciliation policy" that it can stop noisily quicken the services of Union veterans because they decided to march in a body to hang wreaths of honor upon a monument ostentatiously erected to glorify the cause of Slavery and Treason!

But our "new policy" champion does not stop there. It is not content with slurring a single Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, but it must needs make its observance more acceptable to the White League "civilization," by offering the grossest insult in the same breath to the Union's most honored soldier and to the whole body of Union veterans throughout the land. We affirm that no such bold and shameless insult to the loyal soldiers of this Nation has ever appeared in the columns of any other than a disloyal journal, as the following editorial assault upon the Grand Army of the Republic in the same issue of the N. Y. Tribune of May 18th:

It was gay that one of Gen. Grant's last acts before leaving the country should have been in the line of his commencement and most unfortunate mistakes. He was all the while getting into difficulties through trusting to the questionable people who hung about him. This time he has been seduced into the GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, just when that organization seems to be verging into a sort of commission agency, whereby Mr. Danke Doxey may make a living. The General should not have forgotten the way the Orangers ended, nor hastened to connect himself, now that he is out of politics, with an organization which having been purely political for some years, seems at present degenerating into something purely personal. The net result of it probably is, that the General has unwittingly allowed himself to be used as the much needed advertisement FOR A POOR BUSINESS.

The above needs no comment. Perhaps the time has arrived when it is polite for "a reform journal" to thus libel the great organization which embraces so large a proportion of all who survive of the armies of the Union. The Tribune says it is a disgrace to Gen. Grant to become a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and that the Order which is dedicated to the perpetuation of the memories of those who preserved this Government, the alleviation of the wants of disabled veterans and the protection of their widows and orphans, is engaged in a "poor business."

The inference from all this would certainly seem to be that if the Tribune is an authorized exponent of the "new conciliation policy," it does mean that "The Grays are on deck again." We do not know any citizens who have more interest in such a significant declaration than the members of the Grand Army of the Republic.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Some reconciled members of the Army of Northern Virginia in New Orleans have just presented Miss Mildred Lee with much ostentatious display, with an elaborate pyramid of flowers, and a gold medal bearing on one side the rebel battle flag, and on the reverse the inscription, "To the daughter of our old commander—Miss Mildred Lee, New Orleans, May 24, 1877."

The efforts of Northern people—men and women—to educate the Southern negroes, have been received with such remarkable enthusiasm and favor in the past that it is surprising to find even so narrow-minded a paper as the Richmond Enquirer saying, "As to the efforts of the Northern philanthropists to educate the negro, we have little hopes for aid from that source in the future."

A Washington correspondent of the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle has discovered that a new party is already in process of formation in the North and West, that it will doubtless receive accessions from the South, and that is going to take Ben. H. Hill President in 1881. He names such harmonious statesmen and politicians as Conger, Kelley, Banks, and Eaton as sponsors of the new party, and says it is known that Hayes favors the nomination of Hill by it.

Mr. Jefferson Davis has just as much right to make a few remarks" as any other man in this country. He has nothing to repent of, and if he chooses to speak, he may not do any more harm than he has already done. The cause of the South was lost—self-government and constitutional liberty received their death blow when the Confederacy fell, but not before the South had established a character for chivalry and generosity to the world.

LAUNCHED AT LAST. It is said that the differences between the Boston & Maine and Eastern Railroads have been settled, subject to the endorsement of the trustees of the latter road. This settlement includes all law suits growing out of the contest and an equalization of charges on through freight upon terms satisfactory to both parties.—Boston Traveller.

The Journal says:

We are sure that parties living on the lines of the Boston and Maine Railroad and Eastern Railroad, and the public generally, will hear with satisfaction that committees representing the Directors of both corporations have come to an amicable settlement of the difficulties pending between the two roads. The committee representing the Boston and Maine were entrusted with full powers, and the committee representing the Eastern Railroad require the endorsement of the trustees, which will no doubt be given at an early moment. This settlement includes all law suits growing out of the contest and an equalization of charges on through freight upon terms satisfactory to both parties.

It is a cause for congratulation that what seemed an irrepressible conflict has been terminated. The traveling public will lose nothing, and the stockholders will be benefited. Time which has been devoted to the trade of legal quibbles will be devoted to the development of the property. Money which has been used to defray expenses incident to litigation, will be saved to the treasury, and what is quite as important, these two competing roads will now be friends, for a fight for through freight, and will see that it is for their interest to study the possible resources of their own roads.

The result must be beneficial.

Senator Lamar, by request will make a speech on the political situation and the future of parties in this country. The Senator would do Mississippi a greater good to impress upon its citizens, that they must at once and for all put an end to the lawlessness which has disgraced the State, if they desire to be regarded as a civilized community.

The above is taken from a Boston daily of Republican antecedents. Is it not going too much, we ask in all candor, that Senator Lamar should scold his Mississippi friends for exercising a "chivalrous" which he inaugurated himself and to which he owes his own election to the U. S. Senate? Lawlessness is not easily overcome by giving its originators the ghost office of positions. It seems to us it would have been considered paying a premium to crime.—Concord Monitor.

The Albany Journal very naturally complains because Governor Robinson vetoed the supply bill item allowing $6,000 for the promotion of agriculture" while consenting to the appropriation of $23,000 for the Catholic Protectory in that city and because, while vetoing several appropriations for State institutions he allows the item to stand which gives $185,000—an increase of $75,000 over last year's amount—to the Reformatory at his home in Elmira.

WHICH OF AMERICAN VESSELS ON THE COAST OF PERU. A despatch was received Saturday announcing the total wreck of the ship Uncle Toby, Capt. Woodside, the Geneva, Capt. McLoon, and the barque Shamrock, Capt. Panno, on the coast of Peru. No particulars have been received.

The Uncle Toby was 1305 tons register, built in 1856 at Freeport, Me., where she was owned by C. H. Soule and others. She had been at Pabellon de Pica for a load of guano.

The Geneva was 1533 tons register, built in 1871 at Bath, Me., where she was owned by Messrs. Houghton & Brothers. She had been loading guano at Huanillos for Europe.

The barque Shamrock was 631 tons, register, built in Belfast, Me., in 1859, and was owned in New York by Messrs. H. D. and J. U. Brookman and others. She was leading at Pabellon de Pica for Hamptons Roads.

The ships Uncle Tobey and Geneva were fully insured at offices in Boston.

The above were all wrecked in the recent tidal wave on the Peruvian coast. Some seventeen ships in all were totally lost and forty damaged.—Boston Journal.

The New York Times in noting the death of Miss Cornelia Chisolm, says: "Over the body of this fierce girl—blackened and scarred by the flames of the infernal—Southern gentlemen there ought to be pronounced such a discourse as would shame every true man and woman in Mississippi into an unanimous cry for vengeance against the cowardly assassins who have added the crowning infamy of warring upon women and children to a record of rapine and murder which Louisiana itself can hardly excel."

THE TRIBUNE AND THE NEW YORK COLLECTORSHIP.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

"The Tribune heaped jealous commends it more than any of our federal exchanges to our consideration.

Three or four days ago the New York Tribune published a sharp and indicative letter from Gail Hamilton on "Civil Service Reform". It was one of those letters that the reader seizes upon with avidity and till he has finished it. It and the keenness of the Dana-ism character, and although the hard vein of woman's it had the skill of a gentle as a Saladin.

The drift (it was to show the character of the Collector of the Chicago Tribune, Mr. Joseph Medill, in his role as a follower of Senator Blaine, just previous to the meeting of the late Presidential Conventions.

Mr. Medill was a member of the late Civil Service Commission and very zealous in its laudatory reforms and pushing the service of what he could and defend it in its faults and failures were held up to public scandal and magnified to its injury.

The object of Gail Hamilton is to show that these "Civil Service Reformers" had "cast the beam out of their own eye before they take such a notice about the mote in the eyes of others. She says he is a fool, but I am compelled to be a knave. Therefore these efforts which ought not to be so much as named among us, imply to show the weapons with which the Chicago Tribune wields in the presidential election. Without even paying the tribute of probability, without pausing at the thought that these words will inevitably defeat its mendacity, it fabricates and furnishes its fabrications with preternaturalness "Now I maintain that the smuggling silks, across the border or distilling midnight whiskey or, even taking part in a convention—in short, any fraud whatever upon the revenue of the country is as rules and bonds compared to the ingenious, elaborate and intelligent manipulations of the Chicago Tribune. The silk smuggler steals money from a rich and wicked government. He does not mean harm to any one else, only benefit to himself. And harm which he does is harm to property and of a definite valuation. But the Civil Service Reformer deliberates a definite and specific harm—a harm to reputation, a harm to a certain designated person, a harm of vast and incalculable extent, and in cold-blooded premeditation, this design, to him, is truth and honesty to the winds."

Gail Hamilton's following this timely letter a day or two—comes the infallible Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune, Mr. Z. L. White, and makes grave charges against Gen. C. D. Arthur, Collector of New York, in relation to his position towards the Conference looking into the affairs of the N. Y. Custom House.

He charges him with preparing a statement giving an excusing "rose-colored" view of everything," of expressing "surprise and anxiety" and "consternation" when the doings of the Commission were opened to the public; that Mr. Sharpe's public testimony had contradicted many important assertions made by Mr. Arthur's "secret session," that Collector Arthur's "leaning toward the employees giving testimony" was such as "to excite the suspicions of the Commissioners" so that he was requested by the Commissioners to absent himself."

Now in reply to these charges, and stamping them with falsity, the Collector appeals to the members of the Commission for vindication, and the Chairman replies saying that before his letter was written they had made the following minute:

"The attention of the Commissioners having been called to a Washington letter in a morning paper entitled 'Custom House Discoveries' which contains inaccurate statements touching the action and views of the Commission, for the reason that such publication is calculated to mislead the public and to increase the difficulties of the investigation."

No doubt some improvements can be made in the character and conduct of many of the employees of the N. Y. Custom House, no doubt some abuses have been made that were not the Collector must have made first hand, but appointed by him not to make some inquiries, but carelessly and wantonly to attempt to injure and degrade him is more reprehensible and despicable than any petty or grave misdemeanor that can be fastened upon any government officer by all the Civil Service Reformers of Christendom.

Gail Hamilton and the Chicago Tribune to the contrary notwithstanding, Chester A. Arthur is a gentleman and has conducted himself as such in the position to which he was appointed by the President of the United States, and he will be found to be the best of friends and the most formidable of enemies.

I. O. OF G. T.

Meeting of the Grand Lodge of the World

[illegible], May 22. The twenty-third annual meeting of the R. W. Grand Lodge of Good Templars for the World commenced at Congress Hall at 10 o'clock this morning, Col. J. J. Hickman of Louisville, presiding. Eighty regular representatives present, with twenty other members represented. The morning session was occupied with the report of the Committee on Credentials and reception of candidates. The reports of officers will be made this afternoon, and in the evening a meeting will be held in City Hall, when the delegates will be welcomed by Mayor Butler and Governor Connor, to be followed by a banquet at the [illegible].

Afternoon Session.

The Grand Templar, Col. J. J. Hickman, in his address said they never before met in a city which contained no licensed rum-shops. This year has been an extraordinary one in the history of the order, internal dissension has threatened its destruction and disloyalty has shorn it of some of its fair proportions, its financial condition is not very favorable, many Grand Lodges are largely indebted to this body. A new Grand Lodge has been instituted in the Isle of Man. He reports disturbance in the Southern States on the color question, and the States of Kentucky, Arkansas, West Virginia, Florida, Maryland, Missouri, South Carolina, North Carolina, Louisiana, Virginia and Georgia have consented to the organization of colored Grand Lodges. He recommends the institution of several National Grand Lodges. Grand Secretary W. S. [illegible], of Napanee, Ontario, reported whole number of Lodges in the world [illegible], members 346,277, to which 100,000 [illegible] returned, may be added. The Grand [illegible] reports. Balance from last year [illegible], receipts $16,015.50; total, $26,-[illegible]; payments $17,292.69, balance in [illegible].

[illegible] session on the supplementary report of the Committee on Credentials then [illegible] the time till 6 o'clock, when the [illegible] adjourned until 9.30 Wednesday [illegible] with discussion pending.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

NEW YORK CITY

The World's Political Gossip

NEW YORK, May 22. A Washington despatch to the World says Senator Blaine had another interview with the President on political matters so far as they relate to the appointment of one or two persons to office and the retention of others. He will leave Washington in a day or two, not to return till the October session.

Mr. Blaine says he never authorized the denial of the despatch that he had a long interview with the President a week ago.—On the contrary he remained with him two hours and dined with him at the Executive Mansion. The President and himself have always been personally the best of friends, but politically the Senator's views on the policy of the administration are so well known as not to need repetition to the President or public. He has never for a moment had any faith in the wisdom of the policy.

LOUISIANA.

The Log Case—A Compromise Asked.

WASHINGTON, May 22. The Commissioner of the General Land Office has received telegrams from a committee of citizens of Calcasieu Parish, La., in relation to the recent seizure of 40,000 logs near Charles City. Neither telegram raises any question as to the rightfulness of the seizure or asserts that any portion of the timber was cut from private lands. On the contrary they offer to compromise with the Government, and urge as a reason therefor that the seizure caused the suspension of work which threatens to bring suffering and want to many of the people employed. In reply Commissioner Williamson telegraphed that no compromise would be approved or considered by the Department until an inventory and appraisal of the property had been received, and not then at less than the full valuation of the property.

KANSAS.

Railway Traffic Stopped.

TOPEKA, May 22. No trains passed west of Manhattan, on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, or west of Emporia, on the Santa Fe road. Eastward bound trains on the two roads combined here and went over the Kansas Pacific to Perry, but found they could not get through and came back. The Cottonwood and Arkansas rivers have overflowed and bridges on all the streams have been carried away.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., May 23. (1 A. M.)

Indications.

For New England: Rising barometer, Northeast to Northwest winds, partially cloudy weather with rain and stationary or lower temperature.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

The iron steamship Saratoga, about to be launched at Chester, Pa., on Tuesday, started from the blockings unexpectedly and killed and injured many persons. Seven dead bodies have been recovered.

A pestilence is feared on the borders of Long Island Sound from immense quantities of New York swill and street sweepings emptied into the Sound by garbage scows of the city. Hundreds of oyster-beds are being spoiled by this practice.—Pestilence is also feared on Staten Island by city garbage being dumped on contiguous flats.

Sunday night a party of disguised men went to the jail at Blandville, Ky., and seized a negro, Levi File, who attempted to assault and murder the wife of his employer last week. His dead body was found hanging to a tree with several bullets in it and the clothing burned off.

By an explosion of a fire damp at Hill Colliery, Minersville, Pa., Tuesday morning two boys were burned to death.

Gen. Howard has adjusted the troubles with the Nezperces Indians in Walloca Valley, Oregon.

The Secretary of State has appointed Charles Russell of New York his private Secretary. He is a graduate of Harvard and is a young lawyer of more than ordinary promise.

A Washington despatch to the New York Sun says formal charges against B. F. Flanders, Assistant Treasurer in New Orleans will be filed Wednesday with Secretary Sherman.

RUSSIA VS. TURKEY.

An Understanding With England.

Coming Attack on Kars.

THE ABCHASIANS IN REBELLION.

Russia and England Have an Understanding

PARIS, May 22. Le Temps says private information confirms the fact that a note has been communicated to the St. Petersburg Cabinet by the English Embassy, on the questions connected with Constantinople and the Suez canal, now and hereafter. This document is couched in conciliatory terms. We are assured that an understanding is already arrived at between Russia and England, both in substance and form as regards the Suez canal and in substance as regards Constantinople.

Greece to Make War on Turkey.

PARIS, May 22. Le Temps', Athens, special says war between Greece and Turkey is considered inevitable. The Premier at the opening of the Chamber will deliver a speech tending to war, which it is thought will break out in twenty days at the latest.

Defence of Odessa.

LONDON, May 22. A Vienna despatch to the Times says an Odessa letter in the Political Correspondence, states that the military commander of the South coast has taken measures to defend Odessa against a coup de main.

The 13th corps de armee will be employed in the defence of the coast line from Otchakoff to Ackerman. According to the signals of the coast guard, Odessa seems less threatened than Otchakoff. Great care has been bestowed of late on this fortress, which, with the works at Kinburn, protects the entrance to the bay and mouths of the Dnieper and consequently Mikolaieff, the only ship building place thereabouts, since the destruction of Sebastopol. For some days Turkish vessels have been cruising there, seemingly with troops on board.

Great stores of provisions and ammunition are accumulated at Nikolieff and in the event of the Turks rendering the Otchakoff torpedoes harmless not only these stores and the shipbuilding yard, but also Kherson and other great towns on the Dnieper basin would be open to them.

The Turkish squadron, consisting of two monitors, three iron-clad frigates, several smaller vessels and the whole flotilla of barks supposed to have volunteers aboard are cruising in the waters of Sebastopol and Eupatoria. It is reported that this fleet will not be satisfied with bombarding places on the coast, but also means to excite an insurrectionary movement in Crimea. The spirit beginning to show itself in the population is not calculated to inspire much confidence. The south coast of Crimea is now almost entirely occupied by Mahommedans.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS

Attempt to Recruit Foreigners in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, May 22. There has been considerable excitement here for the last few days relating to Mexican affairs. The Mexican steamer which was to leave Sunday morning and which was detained by a despatch from Washington, left last evening with despatches from the Mexican Minister to Diaz Consul Avendano acknowledges that these despatches came from New York where the Minister was with Lerdo, but refuses to give their import. It is stated that efforts have been made to recruit men among the foreign population here for Mexico, in the name of President Lerdo, the men to go to San Antonio, Texas.

The Policy of the United States.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 22. Gen. Ord arrived here from Texas last night and has been in consultation with Gen. Sheridan upon affairs on the Mexican border. In view of the unsettled condition of things, resulting from repeated revolutions and raids and the anticipated Lerdo expedition, General Ord urges the propriety of adopting a new policy on the part of the United States authorities. He wants power to follow lawless Mexicans across the border. It is asserted in military circles that this is to be the future policy of our Government. United States troops are to be slightly augmented on the Rio Grande.

Preparing to Attack Kars.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 22. Since the capture of Ardahan, the Russians appear to be preparing for a vigorous attack on Kars. The Turkish Ministers have resolved to draw no salaries during the war.

Attack on Adler

ST. PETERSBURG, May 22. A despatch dated Sotsch, Tuesday, reports that the Turks attacked the Russian position at Adler, and a severely contested engagement ensued. A Turkish man-of-war has been violently bombarding Adler since ten o'clock this morning.

Helping an Insurrection.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 22. The Abchasians are in full insurrection. Arms have been distributed to them and the Sultan has ordered the purchase of 20,000 revolvers, to be paid for from his private purse for distribution in Caucasus.

GREAT BRITAIN

A Great Strike.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, May 22. A meeting was held yesterday to count the votes of the Northumberland colliers as to whether the dispute with their masters be referred to an arbitration. There was an overwhelming majority in favor of a strike. The Northumberlan colliers number twenty-five thousand.

GERMANY.

Bismarck at Berlin

BERLIN, May 22. Prince Bismarck arrived to-day and will stay a few days previous to going to Kissingen.

A later telegram states that the arrival of Bismarck in Berlin is not the result of any sudden determination, nor is there any special political reasons for it, it having been arranged before hand as a part of the general programme of his journey.

SANTO DOMINGO.

A Revolution Imminent

ST. THOMAS, May 17. Advices from St. Domingo to May 9th are received. A political conspiracy was discovered May 7th in San Domingo City. Thirty persons implicated were arrested and others took refuge in different Consulates. Subsequently guards were stationed before the dwellings of all Consuls to prevent their further use as asylums. Great consternation prevailed and a revolution seemed imminent.

FOREIGN NEWS IN BRIEF.

A Rustchuk despatch, Monday, says great preparations are making by the Russians for an attempt to pass the river between Rahova and Nikopolis. They are erecting large fortifications at Islatz and Turnumgell. A continual concentration of troops in the direction of Simnitza is observable. The Turks are fully prepared to resist the attempt.

Forty-two Russian battalions, three batteries, artillery and some cavalry arrived at Ottenitza, Monday. An attack is expected.

Kernan's cable despatch announces the recall of Prince Bismarck by the Emperor William.

The body of the Turkish chief of staff was found among the slain at Ardahan.

The Government has called for tenders for the demolition and removal of the Jesuit barracks, one of Quebec's oldest landmarks.

The thanks of the musical public are due to M. H. Rev. T. Gerrish on Sunday delivered his first sermon since his sickness.

The Concert Last Evening.

The appearance of a quartette of ladies is a novelty on a Bangor stage, but after the appearance last evening of the Artistes, Quartette of Boston, it is a novelty which all who were so fortunate as to be present will be happy to become familiar with.—The announcement of the names of the artistes, Mrs. Kimball, Mrs. Oakes, Mrs. Barry and Miss Wells gave promise of an entertainment of rare merit. for though Mrs. Barry is an old and ever welcome favorite with a Bangor audience, the others appeared here for the first time, but their reputation as first class soloists had preceded them so that the music-loving people of Bangor were quite ready to greet them with a warm reception, which became a hearty one after their first appearance in the quartette by Weston, "Evening Song," displayed the rich quality of their tones and the rare blending of their voices which is so difficult to obtain in a quartette of singers no matter how each may excel as soloists. The variety in the selections gave full play to the powers of the artists, displaying the richness and sweetness of their tones and their high cultivation, the latter being especially observable in the rollicking and difficult quartette "The Carnovale," and "The Polka Song," while the "Sunrise" and "Good Night Beloved" were marvels of sweetness and expression. Mrs. Kimball in the song "Child et Horn" displayed a richness and sweetness of voice which at once established her position with the audience as vocalist of superior ability.

Mrs. Oakes sang charmingly, "Charlie Machree," and being loudly encored, responded with "Comin' thro' the Rye" in an equally pleasing manner. The "Clang of the Wooden Shoon," by Miss Wells, displayed to the best advantage her deep rich contralto voice, which though almost a bass in depth and volume, was still of the most perfect smoothness. In response to an encore she gave "John Anderson my Joe."

The duett "Dolce Conforto," by Mrs. Oakes and Mrs. Barry, was more than pleasing, and the song by Mrs. Barry, "A Song to Lay at the Feet of my Love," sung in her own inimitable manner, only made the audience call loudly for an encore, in response to which she gave in the sweetest manner possible, "Sleep, Baby Sleep."

Mr. Emerson made his first appearance here as a cornet soloist, and in his charming and faultless rendition of the "Tyrolienne Air," took place at once as a performer of high merit, which he more than maintained in the solo, "Brilliante," which was one of the finest cornet solos ever played in this city, and in the "Swanee River," which he gave in response to an encore. Mr. Emerson is a young performer, it being but two years since he first took up his instrument, and gives promise of achieving the very highest place in his art.

The Artistes were accompanied on the piano with much taste by J. P. Weston. In short the concert as a whole and in detail was a complete success, and a rich treat to those in attendance, whose numbers, however, were far short of what such an entertainment deserved and merited. We hope to hear more of these Artistes in future. The Artistes were the recipients of beautiful bouquets and baskets of rare flowers which were liberally showered upon the stage.

Dead Body Found in the River

Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock the body of a young boy was discovered in the river, just above the dam, by Alexander Currier, who was out in a boat picking up drift wood. He brought the body to the shore and sent word to the City Marshal, and Coroner Wilson, officer Weymouth and the Marshal immediately started for the place where Currier was keeping watch over the body.

A lady from Oldtown, attracted to the spot by seeing the crowd congregating, stated that she knew the boy; said that his name was Mohawk, and that he lived in Oldtown; that he was a French and Indian half-breed; said that about a fortnight since his mother gave him a severe whipping, and that he ran away and went to his grandfather's house, and that they refused to keep him over night. He then left the house and nothing has been seen or heard from him since.

The body is apparently that of a boy about thirteen years of age. At the time he was picked up he had on a checked gray flannel shirt and a blue under shirt, gray pants with a black patch on one knee and two pairs of woolen socks on his feet. A fishing-line was also found in one of his pockets. There no signs of violence about his person with the exception of a slight bruise on the left side of his face.

A jury was sworn by Coroner Wilson and after carefully examining the body adjourned to meet at the police station this afternoon at three o'clock.

EDUCATIONAL.

Teachers' Meeting in Fryeburg.

The Teachers' Class in Fryeburg was a complete success. Forty were present who are engaged to teach the summer schools and several more who taught last winter and will teach the coming winter. Hon. E. C. Farmington and Hon. S. D. Wadsworth had interested themselves to get the teachers out, and to their efforts the large attendance is largely due. The class was organized on Wednesday afternoon. On Wednesday evening Mr. Corthell gave a lecture on "Right Education." Mr. Rounds of the Farmington Normal School took the subjects of Language, Grammar and Arithmetic. He developed the methods of teaching these subjects in the primary schools and to more advanced pupils. Mr. Corthell took up Reading, Spelling and School Organization. Mr. Luce treated the subjects of Drawing School, Movements, and "Law of the Teacher." All the methods developed were eminently practical and the teachers present expressed much satisfaction with the result and went away with the feeling that they had gained many practical suggestions which would help them much in the work of this summer. So much interest was excited, that teachers and school officers from other towns asked if they could have similar meetings, and the State Superintendent promised that similar meetings should be held after the 1st. of September in Lowell and Cornish, if assurance could be given that fifty teachers would be present two days or more. In fact assurances were given that similar classes would be organized in any part of the State where fifty teachers would pledge themselves to attend. [illegible] FRYEBURG.

THE GRASSHOPPER CROP. The Chicago Tribune has received reports of the present condition of the grasshopper eggs in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota. From Iowa the greater number of reports indicate that the snows, cold rain and freezing weather in April was nearly fatal to the eggs, although a few localities report millions of them. The most of the Kansas reports are hopeful, and indicate the freezing out of the pest. On the other hand, the most of the reports from Nebraska show that the cold and wet did not prove fatal, and that the grasshopper is busy among the early grain. About two-thirds of the Minnesota reports are of an encouraging nature.

Business Items.

The demand of the day is for cheap things, but cheap only in price, not in quality. This demand, however exacting, is fully met in the departments of fashion and society by "Andrews' Bazar." To be well informed in these regards is not only pleasing but requisite for a lady. Through no medium can a lady become at once so agreeably, so accurately and so cheaply informed as through the "Bazar." Sample copies sent by W. R. Andrews, Cincinnati, on receipt of ten cents.

A century is almost beyond the existence of any American business house, but for this long period Walter Baker & Co.'s great Chocolate manufactory has been a pride to Boston. TRUE ECONOMY is not in buying the lowest price articles. The best is cheapest. So with the fine cultivated and plantation grown spices imported by Messrs. Pinckney, Jackson & Co., of London and New York. I have just received a shipment of these goods and would specially invite the attention of all consumers to them. These spices are not only absolutely pure, but are without a doubt the finest ever imported into this country. I confidently recommend them as being really of unusual merit.

TO ALL, particularly invalids, spring is a trying season. Indications of sickness should at once be attended to. Fatal diseases may be caused by allowing the bowels to become constipated, and the system to remain in a disordered condition, until the disorder has time to develop itself. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, is an old and truthful saying. Therefore, we advise all who are troubled with the complaints now very prevalent—headache, indigestion, disordered liver, want of appetite, nausea, or feverish skin, to take, without delay, Schenck's Mandrake Pills. We know of no remedy so harmless and decisive in its action. It at once strikes at the root of the disease and produces a healthy tone to the system. People never need suffer from any disease arising from a disordered condition of the liver if they would take this excellent medicine when they feel the first indications of the malady. Families leaving home for the summer months should take three or four boxes of these pills with them. They have an almost instantaneous effect. They will relieve the patient of headache in one or two hours, and will rapidly cleanse the liver of surrounding bile, and will effectually prevent a bilious attack. They are sold by all druggists. eod1m myl

VEGETINE.

Necrosis, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, General Debility, Canker Humor, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Consumption of the Bowels.

CHARLESTOWN, Mass., March 25, 1869.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir,—The following is a statement of my experience with the great Blood Remedy, Vegetine. I have been keeping a boarding house here for many years, and have had the misfortune to have a great deal of sickness in my family. In one case in particular, I noticed the wonderful effect of Vegetine.

About the year 1847, a young man, then sixteen years old, who was a distant relative of mine, came home from sea. He had injured his left leg on board the ship some months before, and when the ship came into this port he came to my home, being so feeble that he could not go to his home in Lowell. His leg was swollen above the knee more than twice its natural size, and he was obliged to drag it along after him, having no use of it whatever. The effect of this had reduced him to a mere skeleton. His father came down, and employed Dr. George Hayward of Boston to attend him, who then occupied a prominent position in the Massachusetts General Hospital. He pronounced it a bad case of Necrosis, and he must be removed to the hospital, have his leg opened and the bone bored, to allow the discharge of matter there collected, otherwise the leg must be amputated.

Not thinking it advisable to pursue this course, and having used Vegetine, the great Blood Remedy, in the past with so good effect, concluded to try it in this case. After taking it regularly for six weeks, his leg was but little swollen, and his general health so much improved that he did not look like the same person. At the end of five months he went home to Lowell perfectly cured. He remained in Lowell until the commencement of the war, then joined the army and was promoted and was found at Lowell in [illegible].

The above is but one case out of many where I have seen this Blood Remedy used with unparalleled success. I have taken it myself for twenty years, more or less, for Dyspepsia and General Debility, and it always appeared to give me new life and vigor.

One lady boarder was completely cured from Canker Humor, after she had suffered for years, and tried almost everything else without receiving any benefit. Another lady was cured from Liver Complaint, which was a bad case, and had been considered by many physicians who had attended her from time to time.

I have known it used by other boarders for Rheumatism with extraordinary great effect.

A lady took it for Consumption of the Bowels, and it took more relief than anything else she could procure.

I do not want to overestimate its usefulness, but I do want those suffering from sickness to know what this good medicine has done and is still doing, for I know what it is to be imposed upon when sick, and I think it is wrong for any one to overestimate a remedy at the expense of the helpless sick, and I, for one, will not do it under any circumstances whatever.

MR. H. R. STEVENS. Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that, for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled, and, as a blood purifier and spring medicine, it is the best thing I have ever used, and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine. Yours respectfully,
